 - a) A Staff-parent will be expected to abstain from voting as a parent member of the PAC on any PAC issue in which they are in a position of conflict of interest which can be determined by the Chairperson (e.g. A vote on PAC financial issues) or by the individual's choice.
2. Non-voting members
 - i. Administrators and staff (teaching and non-teaching) of Auguston Traditional Elementary School may be invited to be non-voting members of the PAC.

5. Members must vote personally on all matters; voting by proxy shall not be permitted.

Two people from the general membership (preferably past executive members) will be appointed by the Nominations Committee Coordinator to count ballots. Final results should include only the names of newly elected members, not vote counts.

If the District Parent Advisory Council (DPAC) position remains vacant it can only be filled by secret ballot; this position cannot be appointed at any time. In the event of an executive member vacating a position before October, the executive shall provide a written call for nominations, providing a minimum of one week until the closing date. Appendix 1 – Cash Handling Procedures

The following policies and procedures are designed to put into place some safeguards to protect parents who may be handling PAC funds. Over the course of the school year many different parents may be called upon to deal with cash and/or cheques from our various PAC events and it is very important that we deal in a consistent manner with these funds.

Cash Handling Policies

1. All PAC cash/cheques handled by Auguston parents must be double custodial (handled by 2 parties).
2. The deposit slip must be initialed by both parties prior to leaving the school property. No uncounted funds are to leave the school.
3. The returning deposit slip must be attached to the original cash tally sheet.
4. The PAC treasurer or designate, is responsible for deposits and this individual must be present at the time the cash/cheques are tallied. The designate would be the Event Coordinator or Fundraising Leader, whenever possible.
5. At the end of an event day, anyone with cash/cheques to be deposited must hand them over to the PAC Treasurer or designate for tallying and deposit, or for tallying and storage in the PAC safe. The principal (of ATEs) must be notified there is money in the safe.
6. Every effort must be made to transfer the funds from the safe to the PAC bank account(s) as soon as possible.
7. Three (3) of the executive members with signing authority, will have a code/key to the PAC safe.
8. Parents are not permitted to reimburse themselves directly from the proceeds of any PAC event. Parents must submit an expense voucher to the PAC executive for reimbursement by cheque. These expenses must be approved prior to the event whenever possible.
9. Parents who handle monies and fail to adhere to these procedures could be held personally liable for any missing, list, or stolen monies.

Appendix 3 – Role of Committees

The Role of Committees in PACs and DPACs

Effective committees contribute greatly to the success of any volunteer organization. Committees have important advantages over meetings of the entire membership:

- Committees promote sharing of responsibility and allow more members to take an active role. New and less experienced members gain valuable information and find support in other parents. Parents who are hesitant to take on a new volunteer task may be willing to offer time to a committee they are interested in.
- Meetings are smaller, more focused, and less formal. There is more time for discussion, and issues can be handled on short notice. Responsibilities can be broken down into more manageable proportions.
- Many tasks require special skills or interest. Committee members often volunteer or are chosen for their expertise and interest. These members are willing to carry the bulk of the workload on an issue, freeing other members to devote their time to other things.
- Complex or difficult issues can be researched and discussed thoroughly before recommendations are taken to the larger group, allowing for more thoughtful and informed decision-making.

Creating a Committee

Committees are appointed under the bylaws by the membership or executive to perform a particular task. There are two types of committees:

Standing Committees

Exist every year and are usually described in the bylaws. Examples are policy, budget, nominating, hot lunch, programs, special events, and fundraising.

Ad hoc Committees

Ad hoc Committees are created to do a specific task within a certain time period.

Committees are technically “committees of the executive” and are overseen by the executive. The president is an ex officio member of every committee, meaning a member “by virtue of his or her position”. The president does not have to attend every committee meeting, but is responsible for overseeing the committee to ensure it is working effectively.

Defining the Committee's Role – Terms of Reference

To be effective, a committee must have well-defined terms of reference, including

- The committee's mandate – a clear and limited purpose
- Clearly defined tasks
- A committee chairperson, responsible for the committee. Additional volunteers can be invited either by the committee chairperson or the executive.
- A plan and timeline
- Direction on reporting – to whom, when, and in what form. Most committees report to the executive which then decides when the committee should report to the general membership.
- Direction on filling committee vacancies.

Terms of reference should be specified by the executive or membership at the time the committee is appointed, and written into the minutes or as a separate document attached to the minutes. Sometimes, the committee itself is given authority to create its own terms of reference at its first meeting. These should be reviewed and approved by the body that created the committee.

All committee members should have a copy of the terms of reference. A list of committee members and the terms of reference should be available to any council member who requests them.

Limits of a Committee's Authority

A committee can do only what it is authorized to do in its terms of reference. In general, committees make recommendations. They may then be given authority to take certain action, but they may not make decisions or take action without approval.

The council executive should take care to ensure that committees are reporting as required and are not taking action beyond their authority.

Appendix 4 – Dispute Resolution Process

Step 1:

Every concern brought forward is immediately funneled to the Vice Chair. The Vice Chair is responsible to gather any pertinent information. Every concern is documented and this log will remain with the Vice Chair. When there are three (3) grievances regarding the same person, brought forward by three (3) different people, the Vice Chair will be assisted by the Constitution, Policies, and Procedures Committee head, who is responsible to research the issue as it pertains to PAC function. These two individuals are to meet with the person the concern is regarding, to work through a resolution. At this point, if deemed necessary, the individual may be asked to resign. Everything is confidential at this point, although the PAC Chair is to be fully informed.

- It is recognized that sometimes a person needs only to receive some direction or information to resolve the situation.
- If it is deemed a “personality conflict”, the concern bearer is encouraged to go back to the individual to work it through. This would also be the case if a second concern bearer came forward with the same issue. In the case of a third concern bearer bringing forth the same issue, Step 1 of the Dispute Resolution Process is applied.

Step 2:

If Step 1 fails to resolve the issue, the concern bearer is required to provide a written request for assistance. This is given to the Executive, where it will be addressed IN CAMERA, and possible solutions to the concern are offered. At this point, if it is deemed necessary, the individual may be asked to resign. If the individual agrees, the process is complete. The concern, the resolution, and the action taken by the person involved, are all minuted. These minutes are kept separate from the regular executive minutes and everything at this point is confidential, unless the individual does not comply, and the situation proceeds to Step 3.

Step 3:

A resolution is put forward to the PAC General Meeting stating the intention of removing (insert persons name) from his/her position. A seventy-five percent (75%) affirmative vote is needed to pass this resolution. Everything is minuted in the regular PAC General Minutes.

Appendix 11 – Statement of Philosophy, Goals and Objectives for ATES PAC

1. Auguston Traditional Elementary School is an alternate program which operates within the Public School System, therefore the prescribed curriculum and regulations of the British Columbia Ministry of Education will be followed.
2. As an alternate program of the Abbotsford School District, this will emphasize:
 - a. A consistent, structured approach to instruction.
 - b. Clearly defined standards of academic achievement.
 - c. Clearly defined standards of behaviour.
3. Specific rules of conduct and behaviour shall not be arbitrarily imposed on pupils without provision being made for them to understand the reasons for and purpose of those rules. Our goal is to provide a safe and comfortable learning environment for all students. To help us do this we need to have a code of conduct that our students understand. We believe that discipline should:
 - a. Show students what they have done wrong
 - b. Show students how they are responsible for their actions
 - c. Show students there are consequences
 - d. Show students they can create solutions
 - e. Keep students' dignity intact
 - f. We believe that the school and the home must work together as partners for the benefit of our children.
4. The Philosophy of the program shall include:
 - a. Respect for fellow students, teachers and parents
It is important that the ATES community (parents and staff) support each student by upholding the following student rights:
Every student has the right:
 - i. To learn
 - ii. To hear and be heard
 - iii. To be safe
 - iv. To privacy and his or her own personal space
 - b. Responsibility for one's actions
It is important that the ATES community (parents and staff) support each student in upholding the following student responsibilities:
 - i. To be on time
 - ii. To be prepared
 - iii. To listen to instructions
 - iv. To do assigned work
 - v. To work in a way that does not infringe on the learning of others
 - vi. To listen and not interrupt those that are speaking
 - vii. To respect and support others
 - viii. To avoid humiliating or belittling others, even if the intent is humour

- ix. To treat others in a way that does not hurt them or cause them to be afraid
- x. To respect the personal property of others and to accept their right to privacy.

c. Concern for others

Each member of the ATEs community has the responsibility to become knowledgeable about and assume responsibility for conducting themselves in a manner that demonstrates their adherence to the aforementioned rights and responsibilities guidelines.

d. Purpose

The educational team of staff, parents and students at ATEs will work towards the common goal described above (see Section 2). Mutual respect and communication are the keys to ensuring that this partnership effectively provides the best educational experience for all our children. It is vital that all parties understand and support the philosophical stance of the school, so that the team can effectively work together. This partnership will assist students in acquiring the skills to help them set worthwhile goals for themselves and to recognize that effort towards such goals is essential and satisfying.

e. Personal Development

Our goal is to foster the self-esteem of our students through a consistent, positive approach to developing positive attitudes, appropriate behaviours, and individual personal growth. To promote school spirit and encourage a positive learning environment, we support a school dress code. This dress code will help students to avoid pitfalls of competitive dress and develop an awareness of the unique contribution they can make to society by fulfilling their capacity for clear, honest thinking, bodily fitness and appreciation for non-materialistic concepts such as beauty of truth, creativity, and sensitivity to the needs of others.

5. Teaching methods and techniques:

a. Establish a strong consistent focus on the “Traditional” methods of instruction which include:

- i. A major focus on content and skill development
- ii. Emphasis on all aspects of language development including phonics, spelling, grammar and whole language
- iii. Differentiation of subjects with some coordination between topics
- iv. Prescribed scope and sequence
- v. Standardized tests with authentic (performance) assessment
- vi. Letter grades (in grade 4 & 5) with purposeful anecdotal reporting
- vii. Direct instruction combined with some active and cooperative learning
- viii. Competition through academic achievement, art, music, and athletic awards
- ix. Teacher roles as supervisors of learners
- x. Professional, collegial, and collaborative relationships

- b. Set high goals of academic achievement, and encourage a sense of educational commitment and purpose.
 - c. Establish a regular homework policy and schedule aided by the use of student 'agendas' or 'planners'.
6. The school district would be responsible to hire a principal who shares and affirms the philosophy, goals, and objectives of the “Traditional” model school. As previously established, the PAC would desire input into the mandate of Auguston Traditional Elementary School as recognized by the parties concerned (principal, teachers, parents). Then, a trust relationship will be fostered which will allow for a positive learning environment and growing atmosphere to be experienced for the benefit of students, staff and parents alike.
7. Parents of prospective students will be provided with information clearly defining the school’s philosophy, goals, and objectives so that all mandates of the school are easily and clearly understood, thereby allowing parents the opportunity to make a responsible choice to enroll their child at Auguston Traditional Elementary School.
